The Dual Credit Program at UNM – Los Alamos is designed to provide high school students with the opportunity to take university-level courses and earn simultaneous academic credit applicable to both the college and the high school.

Admission to Dual Credit is in non-degree status and is not considered “Early Admission” to the University. Students desiring to continue in degree status after high school graduation must apply for freshman admission at UNM-Los Alamos.

Benefits of Dual Credit

- Earn college and high school credit at the same time.
- Experience university instruction and prepare for a college major and career field.
- Enjoy small classes and personalized attention from faculty.
- Tuition and general fees for up to two courses per semester is waived by UNM-Los Alamos.
  - Students are responsible for course specific fees.
  - To avoid service charges or collection fees, it is recommended that a payment for fees be attached to the application upon submission. Fees can also be paid online through LoboWeb or in person with the cashier.
- The school district pays for required textbooks. Home-schooled students purchase their own textbooks.

To Qualify for the Dual Credit program, students must

- Be currently enrolled at least half time at a public, private, or charter high school or a high school level home school.
- Have proof of current high school or home school enrollment on an official transcript.
  - The official transcript must include grade point average and NM State ID number.
- Have the certification and unconditional recommendation of the high school as well as proof of parental consent prior to participation.

Additional requirements include

- Enroll in a maximum of two courses per semester using the Dual Credit tuition waiver.
  - Our priority is student success. In order to achieve a successful experience, students who are enrolled half time at their home high school should only enroll half time in Dual Credit. Enrollment beyond two courses may be extended through Concurrent Enrollment.*
- Meet course prerequisites. Submit ACT or SAT scores or take the UNM-Los Alamos Accuplacer Placement Exam to test into courses that require English or Math placement.
- Take only college-level courses, courses number 101 or higher (except PE-NP courses). 0-100 level courses and PE-NP may be taken through Concurrent Enrollment.*

Dropping or failing a course

The last day for students to drop a course, or to be dropped by their instructor without a grade, is the Friday of the third week of classes for 16-week courses, or Friday of the second week of classes for 8-week courses. Students who drop or are dropped after these dates receive a grade of “W,” which stands for “withdrawal”. Students should do everything possible to avoid dropping a class. A dropped class counts as attempted hours and may affect future financial aid status. Students are encouraged to seek advice from the college instructor, a UNM staff member, or a high school counselor if they are in this situation.

**Concurrent Enrollment allows eligible high school students (public, private, or homeschool) to enroll in college-level courses through UNM- Los Alamos and earn early college credit. Concurrent Enrollment students are responsible for all course costs including tuition, fees, and books.*
